

Thank you for visiting the Better Life ICT's exhibition stand at Melbourne recently. This newsletter aims to:

- provide the latest news on Health Privacy & Security
- announce the result of the prize competition, and
- promote our new services and website.

BLICT website revamped

In response to requests to clarify which services Better Life ICT now offers, we have redesigned our website. Here you find workshops, keynote presentations, in-house training and new services including by-the-hour consultancy and ad-hoc questions answered — now includes indicative costs.

SAFE Competition Winners

The competition to guess the 'not-private but safe' combination was drawn on the last day of the exhibition. The correct combination of 48603 was confirmed when opened by Dr Brendan Lovelock, CEO of HISA. Congratulations to Janine Garrett, Elizabeth Hanley, Liza Reinberger & Aaron Auld who shared $240 of Coles/Myer vouchers — thanks for having a go!

Health Privacy Futures 2008
Realising the Opportunity

Brisbane - 10 and 11 November - Royal on the Park

Just to remind you that the national conference Health Privacy Futures is coming soon, 10-11 Nov. in Brisbane.

This event is aimed at the profession and includes pragmatic talks by presenters with hands-on experience. HPF includes workshops for beginners that will introduce key health privacy issues and also for practitioners to guide them when interpreting and implementing current legislative issues in health privacy. Breach notification — four step approach

A "Guide to Handling Personal Information Security Breaches" is now available for use by businesses, agencies and non-government organisations in preventing and, if necessary, responding to a data breach. The Guide suggests that individuals affected by a breach should be notified where a breach creates a real risk of serious harm to the individuals. Legislation may make this mandatory. BLICT welcomes the news on the Large Hadron Collider

Dr Croll has worked on large projects before but never had to wait over a decade to see the results. BLICT owner, Peter Croll was involved in the design of the massive ATLAS distributed computing farm demanding the world's highest real-time performance. Research undertaken in 1986 and published in the IEEE Transactions on Nuclear Science focused on the use of Statecharts for modeling dynamic behaviour, PR Croll et al 98
